++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold with scattered showers. Wet and windy on Monday.

Today:
Dry and bright to start, then patchy cloud, scattered showers and sunny spells through the day. The showers may become heavy at times, contain hail and be wintry over the hills. Generally feeling chilly, though pleasant in spells of sunshine. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers gradually ease this evening as cloud cover breaks to leave a mostly dry night with clear spells. Some fog patches may develop before dawn and rural frost is likely. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Sunday:
Another day of patchy cloud, scattered showers and sunny spells. Again, the showers may be heavy at times, contain hail and will ease during the evening. Less cold overnight. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Heavy rain, strong winds and coastal gales arrive on Monday. Sunshine and showers on Tuesday and Wednesday. Feeling cold throughout, with showers falling as snow over the hills.
